That Little Hacking Cough

Hard coughs are bad enough, to be sure. But it's often the little, hacking, tickling, persistent cough that means the most, especially when there is a history of weak lungs in the family. What should be done? Ask your doctor. He knows. Ask him about the formula on the label of every bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Ask him if this medicine has his full approval for throat and lung troubles. Then do as he says.

A. R. KELLER APPOINTED CON. SPECIAL TREASURY AGENT TO SULTING ENGINEER BY KAUAI PLANTATIONS.

Following negotiations between the oard of health and the Kanai Plan, one of the principal scaports of ters' Association, President Pratt of group, Kabului, with its opportunit the former body received a letter from for becoming a port of prominen the secretary of the latter yesterday morning notifying him that A. R. Keller had been appointed consulting sanitary engineer for the Kanai plantations. His commission will continue probably until September, when Mr. Keller will return to his duties at the College of Hawaii. This step is one of the most im-This step is one of the most important yet taken in the campaign that is going on continually to place Hawaiian plantations in a first-rate sanitary condition, in which task Kanai is attempting to lead the entire group. A great deal of important work has already been done there. The worst camps which President Pratt found on his last visit have been replaced and the ancient tenements torn down but with the appointment of Mr. Keller the with the appointment of Mr. Keller the Garden Island has got down to the bed rock of sanitation before any of the other islands.

Sanitary Work.

Broadly, Mr. Keller's principal du-ties will be to render advice and draw plans for sewerage and draining systems on all the plantations, commencing with those on which it is most needed. The job in itself is an immense one, particularly as sewerage on some of the plantations will present engineering problems next to insur-

Mr. Keller on his arrival will make a tour of the entire island, sizing up his field of work and picking out the conditions that need remedying first. It will be his first visit to Kauai and he is unable now to discuss his work until he familiarizes himself with what lays before him.

The sewerage questions were ones that worried Doctor Pratt above all others on his last visit which marked the turning point of Kauai sanitation.

The tenement and habitation question

The tenement and habitation question

The tenement and habitation question was one which could ensily be met and which has already been remedied by the plantations in most instances.

Some camps had been in existence from fifteen to thirty years and most of these have gone.

Still Cleaning Up.

The Cleanup Day that Kauai instituted within twenty-four hours after Doctor Pratt's arrival on the island and his address before the association and his address before the association is still going on and recent vicitors say that the majority of the big estates, from manager's house to camp, present as spick and span an appearance as possible. Thousands of wagon loads of rubbish were collected from Hanalei of rubbish were collected from Hanalei to Koloa and destroyed and steps taken to prevent its reaccumulation.

All this, however, has been the phase permitting the easiest handling. The sanitary condition of the camps, particularly those populated by races who know nothing and care less about sanitation, depends largely on the sewerage facilities. In some of the plantations the engineer will have often no gravity at all to reduce the expense of the systems and other bad features will be plentiful in spots. To get the plantation time managements over these troubles is now Mr. Keller's mission, and he will, besides advising them regarding sewers, take up all other features of Kauai sanitation needing an english of Kauai sanitation needing an english content of the composition of the composition of the severage facilities. In some of the plantations the content of the plantation of the composition of the composition would otherwise have run out.''

Invites Criticism.

Dr. E. V. Wilcox, special agent in charge of the federal agricultural experimental station and the entomologist of the station, David Fullaway, have been invited to speak before a public meeting of the board of agriculture on fruit-fly control, Director Giffard offering the care in the field until early last month. The fruit trees in two-thirds of the gardens of the restricted area have already been sprayed over once or more and this work in combination and provided to the plantation of the camps, particulture can in the interim with safety use more of its funds as well as those of California than it could before, never knowing whether the combined territorial and State moneys would hold out until the next legislature convened.

Mahukona and Koloa are also among the ports reported to be slated for discontinuance. Hilo, Kahului and Mahu kona were designated as ports of entry in the Organic Act.

If there is any move to reduce these ports from the dignity of entry ports the business organizations on each island will probably memorialize congress to retain them. The business organizations will point to the fact that Ha wani is one of the few customs districts which gives Uncle Sam a real, man's size income from customs levies and collects it for a very small sum in comparison.

Another rumor, unconfirmed by M
Tidwell, is that he will recommend recomment in the local customhou with clean culture trapping, will now be pursued with more vigor, the board feeling that a ray of daylight has appeared in the shape of federal funds, without which it was not safe to extend such work as the control of an in sect pest such as this one is.

Greater Work.

"After July 1, when more is known as to exactly how much of an expansion of the work the federal man will allow in view of the limitation of his own appropriation, there will probably be a doubling of inspectors to patrol the various sections of Honolulu and suburbs, to thoroughly spray fruit trees in these areas at least once every week, to if possible, extend absorptory work. the other Islands. It can only be con-jectured at this time just how much of all this work can be safely and efficiently undertaken.

Search for Parasite.

"In the meantime the board of agri-culture will continue the effective work it has had in hand for the past few months and the search for a specific months and the search for a specific parasite on the fruit fly will not by any means let up, so far as the board is concerned. This latter section of work is a very important one and public demand is surely on the side of the parasitic control, if it is at all possible. Doctor Silvestri, who has been engaged by the board of agriculture, under a year's contract to search for a parasite, should be well on his way to tropical West Africa by this time, but, as COMES TO LIGHT cal West Africa by this time, but, as all such parasitic work is problematical, it is altogether a question when a specific parasite can be found, if at all. Amongst many eminent entomolo-gists there has always been a doubt as to whether such a parasite could be found, but the same was said in connection with the augar cane borer, which eventually turned up after about five years effort to secure and intro-duce it.

and Mr. Fullaway, the purpose of the board is to court a free and full in-vestigation of the subject and to secure an independent and unbiased opinion on whether or not the work of controlling the frait fly is being car-ried out on systematic and scientific lines. If it is not, the board will gladly change its methods and adopt gladly change its methods and adopt some more concrete scientific plan suggested by you. On the other hand, if the board is doing the work as thoroughly as can be expected in view of the comparatively small appropriation at its command, the public should be so informed in order to refute the charge which has been made through the public press that the present method of control was a farce.
